

Prince James, 3, Statters Aqueduct Racetrack Record in Winning $10,000 Handicap

Captain Alcock Second, Three Lengths Behind the Outsider

Mad Hatter, Favorite, Is Out of Money as Winner Clips Four-fifths of Second From Damask's Mark of 2:11 4-5 for Mile and Five-sixteenths

By W. J. Macbeth
Charles H. Thieriot's Prince James clipped four-fifths of a second off the old Aqueduct record for the mile and five-sixteenths in winning the Aqueduct Handicap of $10,000, the feature of yesterday's holiday card. The former record was 2:11 4-5, established by H. P. Whitney's Damask, under 108 pounds on September 24, 1921.

Prince James, which a short time ago figured among the platers, made it four straight victories in winning yesterday's feature. With his pull in the weights the four-year-old son of King James was found the best of the field of half a dozen that went to the post and practically towed-roped his field from the head of the stretch home.

Prince James had to be a ton the day he won such a handicap as Eddie Taplin. Fortunately, he was about as good as left at the post and so had to bid his time to get through in the run-up the backstretch. He ticked his way carefully, throughout the race, but he was not off at all competition, but Bon Homme, the early pacemaker, then went out and grabbed this one in the dash around the turn. The backstretch, outside of King James, was found the best of the field of half a dozen that went to the post and practically towed-roped his field from the head of the stretch home.

The race was over when Taplin straightened Prince James for the long run home. On his own courage the old colt simply raced to victory and a new record just as he pleased, to win all by himself and also by five lengths. There was a barrier in the way of the last furlong for the place between the Quinby Stable's Captain Alcock and R. T. Wilson's Sedgewick, and the Captain outgamed his rival in the final stride.

The Rancocas Stable's Mad Hatter, the odds on choice, was unable to concede such poundage as asked to his backers, and he was out of the race. This one, which likes best to run in front, was off sluggishly, as was also Prince James. Sande saved three lengths in his first turn, but when he started to run up the backstretch he was unequal to the task.

Wilanka Wins 2:3 Trot in Straight Heats

Wrack and Jane the Great Take Other Grand Circuit Races at Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Three cheap class events were all that were staged on today's grand circuit card, the 2:16 mile having been declared off because of a lack of starters.

Wilanka, of the McDonald stable, in the 2:13 trot, was the only straight heat winner of the afternoon. After D. W. Maloney, an outsider, had won the first heat of the 2:08 pace, he broke in the second mile and narrowly escaped the flag. Wrack, the favorite, winning. D. W. Maloney was never headed in the final mile, however. Jane the Great, placed in the field in the 2:01 trot, won that event after Kilo Watts, second choice, had won his first victory. The visitors last two miles. Jane the Great was easily the best, while the favorite, Peter Coley, was never a contender.

Yale, Harvard and Cornell all open their gridiron campaigns with unusual prospects in the East. Penn State, Pittsburgh, the Navy, Princeton, the Army and Syracuse have lost valuable stars, but will be up there with the elect. Columbia has the best-looking prelude in years. Dartmouth will be better, while Penn and Colgate still have quite a distance to climb. W. and J. and Lafayette will miss a flock of luminaries, but both will have power enough left to go quite a way.

The Western Conference will be as strong as usual and well balanced, but Notre Dame loses enough talent to build two strong machines. The South, upon a general average, will be stronger than last year, as several Eastern and Western teams may find. So at this early period of practice there is every indication that 1922 will present all the action any lone autumn can handle without a series of detonations. This may not be the greatest year football has ever known, but it will be one of the most interesting. Which is quite enough.

The World Turf Tennis Championship
Gerald Patterson, after winning the so-called "world championship" at Wimbledon, lost three successive matches to Tilden and Johnston. All of which has stirred up quite a hullabaloo as to the inherent value of this Wimbledon championship.

The London Times' claims, correctly, that at a meeting of international delegates held in Paris in March, 1913, the British Isles were awarded three turf tennis championships "in perpetuity." "The Times" then proceeds:

"With a noble history which is almost unrivaled in any other sport, Wimbledon is a true and fitting home for championships. We say this in no narrow, insular or sporting spirit and the records of Wimbledon are its own best testimonial, for it has drawn competitors from every corner of the earth. The defeat of the present world's champion in America last week need not place him 'in a false position.' Every champion has his 'off days' and the vanquished of the world's best players are no less entitled to the honor of champions than the victors."

Baltimore Sprinter Loses P. R. R. Championships
ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 23.—The annual track and field championships of the Pennsylvania Railroad, held here this afternoon, resulted in a victory for the Eastern Region, which retains the Central Region with second, 48 1/2 points, and the General Office, Philadelphia, was third, with 45 1/2 points.

Among the surprises was the defeat of Galloway, of Baltimore, the 1921 champion, relinquishing both the 100 and 200 yard sprints to James Ebert, of Philadelphia, who established a new record for the "century," running the distance in 0:10, as against the old mark of 0:10 2-5.
